El Dorado Transit success

El Dorado Transit reports that ridership on its downtown Sacramento commuter and light-rail connector services is up 16 percent, compared with the same period last year, according to a press release.

"Increases in gasoline prices have caused a big jump in ridership on the commuter bus routes," said Executive Director Mindy Jackson. "The great news is that we still have room."

El Dorado Transit operates 12 direct commuter bus routes to and from downtown Sacramento every weekday, as well as seven round trips connecting with light rail at the Iron Point Station in Folsom, Jackson said. For more information, call (530) 642-5383 or go to www.eldoradotransit.com.
